Back to School = More Golf for You!

Yes, that's right! As the kids and grandkids go back to school, the parents and grandparents get to reclaim their fame at the golf course. Call your friends and co-workers and get your foursome back on track for your weekly round. I have talked to a lot of people who say they have stopped playing for one reason or another, and I always hear them say they would like to get back to playing regularly. All it takes is a phone call to your old buddies and family members! Or just book a tee time for yourself- the golf course will often have someone to pair you to play with, or maybe you like to play alone. In fact, these rounds can often be the best for your game. Hit a second ball, try your putt again, or take a few extra practice swings and think about the landing area before you hit, rather than after you hit. Golf is great exercise, very social, and can be extra gratifying some days. Hope to see you at the course this week!

New Menu Item: The Grilled Cuban

There are sandwiches... and then there are sandwiches. A new addition to the menu for the Summer is the Grilled Cuban. This sandwich has to be one of the best creations between two slices of bread, almost as if it came from a charcuterie's dream; ham, bacon, and pulled pork topped off with Swiss cheese, Dijon mayonnaise, and pickles served on buttered and grilled sourdough bread. This dream can be made a reality by visiting us at Bear Creek for lunch. Mention this newsletter article and receive a FREE Fountain Soda, on me. We look forward to feeding you!

Party on the Patio Recap

Thank you to everyone who came out and made our second annual Party on the Patio event a huge success! We had thirty six guests join us this year for music, food, and drink specials. From the delicious watermelon stacks to the tender pork shanks, the buffet spread prepared by Executive Chef, Ben Kendig, was absolutely delicious! Rocky and Michelle put on a great performance, as always, and we cannot wait to have them back next year for our next Party on the Patio event!
